Policy

1. Marketing information

- Paramount International College (PIC) ensures the information provided to students about its services, courses, units and qualifications delivered is accurate and factual, regardless of whether the information is provided by the RTO, its brokers, online directories, agents or other third parties. All information clearly distinguishes between non-recognised training and nationally recognised training.
- Paramount International College's marketing information will enable informed choice for students by ensuring the information is detailed, accurate and complies with the requirements of the Standards, the ESOS Act and the National Code 2018.
- All marketing information for nationally recognised training:
 - Identifies Paramount International College with its National RTO Code, legal entity and/or trading name.
 - Identifies Paramount International College with its CRICOS Registered Name and Registration Number.
 - Will only include the Nationally Recognised Training logo in accordance with its Conditions of Use outlined in Schedule 4 of the Standards.
 - Includes the full name and code of the relevant Training Product whether it is a unit, module, qualification, skill set or accredited course so there is no confusion for students about the outcome.
 - Will be consistent with Paramount International College's Training and Assessment Strategies.
 - Will include clear and accurate information consistent with the National Code including associations with any other persons or organisations the registered provider has arrangements with for the delivery of the course, any work-based training a student is required to undertake as part of the course, prerequisites (including English language proficiency) for entry to the course and any other information relevant to the registered provider, its courses or outcomes associated with those courses.
 - Include relevant cost information including all costs, any debts that may be occurred, or any loss of entitlement from the student undertaking the course (such as loss of entitlement for further government funded programs or student loan schemes).

2. Protection of consumer rights

- Paramount International College ensures consumer protection laws are adhered to through the following mechanisms:
 - Having all students sign an International Student Letter of Offer and Agreement in acknowledgement of the Terms and Conditions of Enrolment.
 - Having a clear and detailed Fees and Refunds Policy and Procedure which is published on our website. This policy is also outlined in the International Student Handbook and on the International Student Letter of Offer and Agreement.
 - Having a Complaints and Appeals Policy and Procedure which any student or member of the public can access at any time to make a complaint about any of Paramount International College's products, services, staff or decisions.
- Course information provided prior to enrolment will provide the individual with detailed information about fees in line with Clause 5.3 of the Standards and National Code Standard 2.
- Paramount International College, nor any of its brokers, agents or other third parties, will not:
 - Guarantee a successful education assessment outcome, including that a student will be issued with a qualification or statement of attainment.
 - Guarantee any employment outcome as a result of training and/or assessment unless guaranteed employment has been arranged.
 - Claim to secure any migration outcomes based on completing a course with Paramount International College.
 - Claim that a student will be eligible for any license or accreditation as a result of training and/or assessment unless it is a license outcome guaranteed by the issuer of the license or accreditation.

- Give any other false or misleading information or advice in relation to itself, its course or outcomes associated with the course.
- Knowingly recruit or seek to enrol an international student before they have completed six months of their principal course of study.
- Prior to enrolment or the commencement of training Paramount International College provides to each individual current and accurate information that enables the individual to make informed decisions about undertaking training with Paramount International College.
- Course information provided prior to enrolment will provide the individual with detailed information about fees in line with Clause 5.3 of the Standards and Standard 2 of the National Code.

3. Advertising and promotional materials

- Paramount International College's advertising is always factual and ethical and will not misrepresent Paramount International College's training and assessment, products and other services.
- All advertisements and promotional materials (both written and online) will:
 - Identify Paramount International College with its National RTO Code.
 - Identify Paramount International College with its CRICOS Registered Name and Registration Number.
 - Include the full name and code of the relevant Training Product to be delivered, whether it is a unit, module, qualification, skill set or accredited course so there is no confusion for students about the outcome.

4. Marketing permissions

- Paramount International College will obtain prior written permission from any person or organisation used as a source of comment, testimonial or picture, for any marketing and/or other material and will always abide by the conditions of that permission.
- Records of permissions will be stored on the relevant Register as relevant.
